Clinician in Internal Medicine

Vacancy Ref: 114290

Salary: Grade 7/8, £38,474 – £79,500 per annum (depending on experience) plus additional generous OOH supplement and 21.4% employer pension contribution.

The School of Biodiversity, One Health & Veterinary Medicine of the University of Glasgow is looking for a Clinician in Internal Medicine to deliver an efficient and effective internal medicine service by providing expertise and clinical activity in the Small Animal Hospital.

The ideal candidate will have completed an ECVIM or ACVIM approved residency or hold an ECVIM or ACVIM postgraduate diploma in Small Animal Internal Medicine or equivalent but residency-trained colleagues due to sit exams and experienced advanced practitioners will also be considered. The post offers a significant element of 'off clinics' time for research and scholarship (including exam study). The role will also involve the delivery of clinical teaching to undergraduates, interns and residents.

The successful candidate will be joining a friendly and supportive multidisciplinary team within our award-winning state-of-the-art Small Animal Hospital. The hospital is based on the beautiful Garscube estate, 10 minutes' drive from the vibrant "West End" of Glasgow and less than one hour from Loch Lomond. Our facilities include on-site 1.5T MRI, CT, C-arm fluoroscopy, a range of Olympus and KarlStorz endoscopes, a linear accelerator and radio-iodine unit. We have a dedicated ICU and excellent in-house laboratory. Our 'One Hospital' team ethos ensures exceptional clinical care can be delivered to our patients, and supports the continual professional development of our vets, nurses and support staff. The ability to work well with others in a collegial team atmosphere is essential.
