

Board-certified or Board-eligible Medical Oncologist –Bristol Vet Specialists UK

Due to expansion of our busy oncology service, we are now seeking an additional medical oncologist to join our cancer treatment service.

Our brand-new hospital opened in October 2023 and has an Elekta 6MV linear accelerator (capable of IMRT and stereotactic treatments), dedicated oncology procedure and treatment rooms, an interventional radiology suite, and a nurse-led chemotherapy clinic.

Our current medical oncology team consists of two medical oncology specialists, 2 ECVIM-CA residents, 1 intern and 2 oncology RVNs (soon to be 3!). We have excellent surgical support from soft tissue and maxillofacial specialists, and radiation planning is done by a remote board-certified specialist, with dedicated therapeutic radiographers performing the radiation treatments.

We are based at the junctions of the M4 and M5 motorways in Avonmouth (North of Bristol, with excellent travel links to Wales, the Southwest, Central and Southern England). This is a beautiful and affordable area of the country in which to work, catering for city-lovers and country-lovers alike.

BVS has almost every speciality represented, and all the equipment you would expect in a cutting-edge specialist hospital. There is a very strong team spirit and cases are managed in a collegiate manner.

Quality of life for staff is very important with full-time specialists typically working a 4-day week; part-time and flexible working practice can also be accommodated. A split role between clinic duties and telemedicine service for the CVS group can also be considered. A very competitive remuneration package is available for the right candidate.

If you would like to know more about this exciting position, we would be delighted to hear from you. Please send expressions of interest to owen.davies@bristolvetspecialists.co.uk.
