

Internal Medicine specialist - Lyon

AniCura Armonia provides technical care for cats and dogs, receives referrals for internal medicine, ophthalmology, surgery, imaging, neurology and oncology, and also has a 24-hour emergency service.

Our team of around twenty vets, including 5 European specialists (anaesthesia, oncology, surgery and dermatology), has an analysis laboratory, an endoscope and state-of-the-art imaging equipment (80-slice scanner).

We are located in new premises in Vaulx Milieu. Nearly 1,640m² are dedicated to developing best veterinary practice.

Duties of the post :

- Managing the Internal Medicine department
- Providing consultations and complementary examinations
- Supervise the department's veterinary surgeons (CEAV) and assistants

Profile :

If you have just finished your residency training, we are used to accommodating ample study time for board examination.

Why join us?

- Are quality of care and expertise important to you? Perfect! The quality of our care is of paramount importance to all of us.
- Kindness, well-being at work and team spirit are among our priorities. Come and discover our large and talented team!
- We are located near Lyon, one of Europe's most attractive cities for its quality of life. We're close to major road links, with fast access to ski resorts.

Job Type :

The position can be part time or full time to suit your lifestyle. It's a fixed term contract with annual working days system.

Application :

For any question or an informal discussion, you can contact armonia.rh@anicura.fr

