

JCU VET Small Animal Medicine Specialist

Ready to Make Your Move? Join the JCU Vet Team in Beautiful Australia!

Are you ready to step into a role where your expertise makes a real difference? Join us and become an integral part of our dynamic and supportive team at JCU Vet, help us foster development, contribute to our mission of excellence, and enjoy the incredible lifestyle opportunities that Australia offers.

- Annual Salary $180,000 – $250,000 + super + benefits
- Well-equipped multi- disciplinary Hospital
- Fulltime permanent position
- Visa sponsorship and relocation assistance
- Tropical Lifestyle

JCU Vet is the Clinical Small Animal Teaching Hospital for James Cook University School of Veterinary Science located in Townsville, North Queensland. We are focused on providing excellence in clinical training for veterinary students and developing a post graduate residency program.

As part of our vision, we are expanding our existing team of specialists to further grow our clinical disciplines, including Emergency and Critical Care, Medicine, Surgery, Anaesthesia and Radiology.

This position is perfect for veterinary specialists with experience in academia, clinical practice, teaching, and leadership. If you enjoy mentoring students and leading postgraduate research and training, we provide the resources and support to help you succeed.

We are seeking a Boarded Medicine Specialist who shares our commitment to progressive patient care, lifelong learning, and a passion for teaching and mentoring. To succeed you should hold DACVIM, DECVIM or FANZCVS, and a Veterinary degree eligible for registration in Australia.

Key Responsibilities:

- Lead a team to deliver advanced medical care for referred patients locally and statewide,
- Support and collaborate with other disciplines to foster a positive learning environment for students and staff.
- Mentor, oversee & support the development of veterinary interns and residents.
- Build strong relationships with referring veterinarians,
- Drive continuous improvement within the internal medicine service,

- Share and expand expertise through in-house continuing education and clinician rounds,
- Engage in student case management, rounds, tutorials, and assessments.

Benefits:

- Competitive salary (AUD $180k–$250k) commensurate with experience,
- Generous CPD allowance and Continuing Education leave,
- A manageable caseload with diverse and interesting cases,
- Culture focused on individual growth and strong team support,
- Access to advanced facilities, including in-house lab, on-campus external lab, ultrasound, digital radiography, endoscopy, 160-slice CT,
- Opportunity to influence, inspire, and contribute to the next generation of veterinarians,
- Support for further professional development.

Life in Townsville

Townsville, with its proximity to the Great Barrier Reef, ancient rainforests, and stunning beaches, offers the perfect balance of urban convenience and regional charm. The city boasts a warm, welcoming community, excellent dining, a world-class stadium, and easy access to Cairns, the Whitsundays, and other iconic Queensland destinations. The region is a paradise for outdoor enthusiasts, with opportunities for hiking, snorkelling, diving and exploring Australia's natural beauty during your days off.

For families, Townsville provides top-quality public and private schools as well as Universities, along with a variety of family-focused events and sporting activities. Whether you prefer inner-city living or acreage with plenty of space for the family, pets, and a pool, Townsville offers a range of lifestyle options.

This position is ideal for someone with a commitment to patient care, teaching and mentoring in a supportive, multi-disciplinary environment.

If you feel this position is what you have been looking for, please contact:

Dr Yenny Indrawirawan (BAnimSc BVSc MANZCVS(SAM) FANZCVS(ECC)

Veterinary & Critical Care Specialist

Hospital Director

JCUVet

Veterinarycareers@jcu.edu.au

www.jcuvet.com.au

