

SMALL ANIMAL SPECIALIST in INTERNAL MEDICINE
ANICURA AQUIVET, Centre Hospitalier Vétérinaire, Mérignac, France

The “Centre Hospitalier Vétérinaire (CHV) ANICURA AQUIVET” is seeking to add a board certified or board-eligible internist to our current staff of small animal specialists.

AQUIVET is a 2006 established referral and emergency practice, housed in a brand new dedicated 2800 m² Hospital located in Mérignac, in the periphery of Bordeaux and close to the Bordeaux-Mérignac international Airport.

We offer multiple speciality services in Surgery, Internal Medicine, Cardiology, Radiology, Ophthalmology, Dermatology and Physiotherapy. A 24-hour, 7 days a week emergency service is also available on site. All services work together in order to offer excellence in patient care, owners and referring veterinarians satisfaction. Patient care and teamwork are emphasized. A highly friendly work atmosphere and a good work/personal balance are paramount to us. A well-trained team of 44 veterinary technicians/nurses is dedicated to patient monitoring and treatments, and completes our team of 37 veterinarians.

The successful applicant would join our internal medicine service, alongside 2 other internists, 1 resident and 3 veterinary assistants. Publication, CPD and staff training are encouraged and supported but not mandatory. A full-time 4 day-a-week position can be offered, but a part-time position can also be considered.

Our facility consists of 21 examination rooms, and is fully equipped with in-house laboratory, digital radiology (x2), ultrasound room, endoscopy room (digestive, respiratory and urinary endoscopies), Intensive Care Unit, 9 surgery suites, physical therapy unit, fluoroscopy, 84 slices CT with angiographic features, and 1,5 T MRI (Canon).

Bordeaux is a growing city, located in the very attractive area of South Western France. Its historical 18th century centre is classified and protected by the UNESCO. Bordeaux international Airport is connected with all French cities and most European capitals. The high-speed train (TGV) train station is only 2 hours away from Paris.

Bordeaux lies within the famous Bordeaux vineyard, one-hour drive from the Atlantic coast and 2,5 hour-drive from the Pyrenees Mountains. It offers multiple opportunities for outdoors activities, culture, theatres, museums, and constitutes a friendly environment for raising children.
