Clinician in Small Animal Medicine

Vacancy Ref: 170151

Salary: Grade 7/8, £40,497 - £45,413/£49,559 - £57,422 per annum, plus an additional generous market and OOH supplement, plus employer pension contribution

The University of Glasgow's School of Biodiversity, One Health and Veterinary Medicine is seeking to recruit a dynamic and motivated clinician to join our Small Animal Medicine team.

We welcome applications from candidates who hold an ECVIM/ACVIM diploma or have completed an approved residency training programme. In addition to clinical activities, the post offers a significant element of 'off clinics' time for research and scholarship. The role will also involve the delivery of clinical teaching to undergraduates, interns and residents.

The successful candidate will be joining a friendly and supportive multidisciplinary team within our award-winning state-of-the-art Small Animal Hospital. The hospital is based on the beautiful Garscube estate, 10 minutes' drive from the vibrant "West End" of Glasgow and less than one hour from Loch Lomond. Our facilities include on-site 1.5T MRI, CT, C-arm fluoroscopy, a range of Olympus and KarlStorz endoscopes, a linear accelerator and radio-iodine unit. We have a dedicated well-equipped ICU and excellent in-house laboratory. Our 'One Hospital' team ethos ensures exceptional clinical care can be delivered to our patients, and supports the continual professional development of our vets, nurses and support staff. The ability to work well with others in a collegial team atmosphere is essential.
