Internal Medicine Consultant (English-Speaking)

Virtual (Europe)

We are expanding our Global Medical Consulting team at IDEXX and are looking for an Internal Medicine Specialist to support our UK customers. As a Small Animal Internal Medicine Consultant, you will play a key role in assisting veterinary practitioners with diagnostic test selection, interpretation of laboratory results and case management, including treatment options.

Are you a Board-Certified Internal Medicine Specialist (ECVIM or ACVIM) and looking for a new opportunity and challenge? Would you enjoy working from home, providing expert phone consultations to veterinary surgeons in practice? If so, we would love to hear from you - apply today and become part of our collaborative, international team!

Why this role matters:

The Medical Consulting Team at IDEXX is dedicated to enhancing veterinary care through high-quality diagnostic support. We place a strong emphasis on peer-to-peer education and building trusted relationships with our colleagues in practice. Our veterinary team collaborates closely with our commercial and laboratory teams to ensure the delivery of accurate, practical and clinically relevant diagnostic solutions.

In this role:

- During regular working hours you will consult with customers by phone on diagnostic test selection, interpretation of laboratory results (both reference laboratory and in-house testing), and the treatment and management of medical cases.
- You will discuss tests offered by IDEXX, including test availability, specimen requirements, clinical utility of each test and result interpretation.

- You will maintain proficiency and continually develop medical knowledge through self-directed learning, attendance at scientific meetings, participation in internal continuing education, and regular review of current literature.
- You may be asked to prepare newsletter articles to be included in IDEXX newsletters; writing or reviewing laboratory diagnostic or service updates on new products or services; or preparing other marketing, sales or promotional material.
- You may also be asked to participate in IDEXX educational and organizational meetings as required.

What you will need to succeed:

- You should be a diplomate of the European College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ECVIM) or the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ACVIM). Individuals with extensive clinical experience who are ECVIM or ACVIM board-eligible will also be considered. In addition, RCVS registration is required for this position.
- Fluency in English is needed for this position. Additional language skills are an advantage and highly valued in this international company.
- A collaborative, service-oriented approach, with the ability to work independently is essential in our team.
- Strong interpersonal, communication, and clinical reasoning skills will be beneficial in this position.
- For this position you will work from a home office but might, from time to time, be required to travel. Computer literacy and a reliable, high-speed internet connection are necessary. This is a virtual role and requires the ability to work at a computer for extended periods.
- Ability to work in a rapidly changing environment.

What you can expect from us:

- When you join IDEXX, you will find yourself in a challenging but exciting environment where you are given the opportunity to be yourself, innovate, and grow. We have so much to offer!
- You will join a successful team who is proud of the work they do and motivated by their unified purpose of helping others.
- You will work with people who are inspiring, open, and the best in their operating space.
- We believe in you – with a team of over 10,000 employees all over the globe, there are lots of opportunities for learning, personal growth, and career expansion.

- You'll be part of a double-digit growth company in a quickly growing market and we are leading the way forward with innovative products, services, and a strong focus on our customers.

About IDEXX:
We're proud of the work we do, because our work matters. Every role at IDEXX contributes to enhancing the health and well-being of pets, people, and livestock. With over 10,000 global team members, customers in over 175 countries, and a fast-growing industry - we're always looking for motivated and inspiring people to join us.

A significant portion of our growth is happening all across Europe and with growth comes opportunity! We offer competitive compensation, incentives, and benefits.
