We are looking to recruit an additional Internal Medicine clinician on a full time basis. This role would suit a board-certified or residency trained candidate ready to progress their team in a welcoming and adaptable team. The successful applicant would be keen to work alongside existing clinicians to drive the business forward, with potential for progression into a more senior position in the future for the right applicant.

Pride Veterinary Referrals are the small animal referral hospital for the Scarsdale Veterinary Group, a multi-disciplinary group employing over 300 staff across 10 sites in the East Midlands. We work closely with the University of Nottingham, with final year veterinary students rotating through first opinion and referral services at Pride.

We are located at the edge of Derby city centre with good transport links to major cities via road and rail network. East Midlands Airport and Birmingham International Airport offer convenient access to domestic and international destinations.
